THE WATER-WORKS INJUNCTION CASE.—This case, which was heard before Judge Hopkins in chambers, yesterday, was very interesting to our citizens. Collier & Hoyt and Mynatt & Dell appeared for complainants and argued for the injunction. Hammond & Son appeared in behalf of the city, and Judge Lochrane watched the case on behalf of the contractors. The injunction was refused. There is some talk of appealing to the Supreme Bench, but we hardly think there is much chance of its being carried up.
